Italian Fliers Safe On Beach Near Natal In Brazil

FLIGHT MADE LONGEST YET; LAND ON SAND

Night of Anxiety Passes When Plane Is Found On Beach In Brazil.

By U. G. KEENER.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 6.—Safe after a trans-Atlantic flight in which they broke the world long-distance record, Maj. Arturo Ferrarin and Maj. Carlo Del Prete of the Royal Italian air force, were with their monoplane today on the beach at Touros, 45 miles from Natal.

The plane had landed first at the Municipal bathing beach near Natal but reascended and turned southward to continue its flight, originally intended to end at Beunos Aires, 7,000 miles from Montecello airbase from which it started Tuesday. Crowds watched the plane head into the storm, and a few minutes later saw it flying back over the city, to disappear northward.

A night of anxiety regarding its safety was ended today when Pilot Andre De Pecker, of the French Latécoere Paris-Buenos Aires mail service, searched the beach and, after an hour's flight, located the plane at Touros. Later, at 8:30 a. m. in E. S. T. De Pecker's plane, the Latécoere-153 was seen flying over Natal on its return journey.

News of the Savoia-Machetti's landing was received with great enthusiasm throughout the country. Thousands of people, in towns and in the isolated provinces, had watched for it.

Every city along the South American coast as far as Buenos Aires, 2,500 miles south of the landing place, has made elaborate tentative plans to entertain the aviators.

It is hoped here that they will come at once to Rio, to receive the official welcome of the government.

HOPPE ADMITS HE KILLED TEACHER

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—Charles Hoppe, Toledo chauffeur, who kidnapped and killed seven year old Dorothy Szilagowski recently, admitted to death Miss Lily Croy, pretty Toledo school teacher on Oct. 25, 1926, it was revealed today.

The revelation was made by alienists shortly after Hoppe, who has been on trial for the Szilagowski murder, brought the trial to an end with a plea of guilty and threw himself on the mercy of the court.

Circleville Man Real Successful As Boat Skipper

James I. Smith Jr., of Circleville who is employed in the comptroller division of the Edison Company at Detroit, Mich., takes delight in sailing catboats over the lake course about Belle Isle. He has become quite an expert in handling these single masted boats. Mr. Smith is a member of the Edison Boat club, in race of catboats held last week. The Detroit Free Press says in speaking of Mr. Smith's performances.

For the third time this year the Detroit record for sailings catboat over the regular mile and a half triangular course has been lowered. Yesterday at the Edison boat club, J. I. Smith piloted his boat around the stakes one mile and a half in 14 minutes and 22 seconds. This was 23 seconds faster than the time set by Carl Rohlf three weeks ago. Considering that Mr. Smith is really an amateur in the handling of catboats his piloting was remarkable, as he beat the time of a professional.

SWEDISH HERO RESCUED FROM ARCTIC CAMP

Fellow-Aviator and Close Friend Is Hero of Daring Feat.

STOCKHOLM, July 6.—Lieut. Elmar-Paal Lundborg, Swedish hero isolated at the Italia ice camp off North East Land, was rescued today by his fellow-aviator and close friend, Lieut. Schiberg, the ministry of defense announced.

Schiberg duplicated the feat in which Lundborg flew to the camp in a small airplane, landed on the treacherous 600-by-900 foot ice floe, now dangerously thin, and rescued Gen. Umberto Nobile, the Italia's commander.

On a second flight, Lundborg's machine crashed on the rough ice. Since then he had been isolated with the five men of the Italia crew who had pitched camp there. Day by day he had sent out cheery messages — birthday greetings to his wife, directions for planes to land on the runway he and his companions had built amid frequent storms and in bitter privation and occasional dramatically simple requests for early rescue because the ice floe was thinning and breaking up.

TWO NEGROES GO TO THEIR DEATH AT OHIO PRISON

Circleville's Newest Industry Is Now Employing 175 Men

Circleville has a new industry, one that just started four months ago, and which today is employing 175 men and growing.

It is the Sturm and Dillard company gravel washing plant, located at the edge of the city.

At present the daily output is from 4,000 to 5,000 tons of gravel per 20-hour-day.

The deposit which it is working on contains approximately 10,000,000 tons of sand and gravel, as near as can be estimated, which assures this industry for Circleville for years to come.

Half of the employees of the new company are local men, and the wages or part of the wages of all the employees are spent in this city.

Four months ago The Sturm & Dillard Company started building its gravel plant. It has been in operation two months. Five miles of track have been put down and are in operation for storage from the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk and Western railroads, for ballast loading.

The washer plant is equipped with the latest type machinery known to the gravel industry, including an electric automatic skip hoist, elevating the material to a hopper bin 104 feet above the ground, at the rate of 400 tons per hour.

To insure the material being free from loam and other foreign matter, the pumps elevate 2,500 gallons of water per minute to the screens through which the aggregate passes for sizing.

To reduce large boulders to screened sizes, the plant is equipped with two rock crushers, one of which weighs 68,000 pounds.

Due to engineering resources it has been found that concrete increases in tensile strength on all tests as far back as the records go. It is not known at present the years that may elapse before structures built of concrete will show any deterioration.

As an example the state of Ohio has at the present time nine separate specifications for gravel. Rigid enforcement of proportioning material has brought into use the adjustable batch box to measure the sand and gravel for state highway work, such as the concrete base to be used on the Scioto Trail north of Circleville. This method insures a higher tensile strength concrete, to withstand the heavy traffic that now moves over the highways.

It is of interest to note the advancement of concrete construction through the contrast of the old covered bridge and the new bridge being built over Walnut creek on the Columbus road. These abutments of concrete and reinforcing steel are poured in one solid mass, built to withstand the assault of floods and time.

This modern plant now operating here is equipped to handle any contract regardless of specifications, and in addition is producing a high grade mason sand that has been tested both for brick and plaster use by various contractors here and in Columbus and approved unanimously.

CITY'S BLAMED BY OHIO BODY FOR HIGH RATE

Docket Cleared So That Hearing Can Be Had at Once, Commissioner Says.

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—The Circleville Herald, in its campaign to relieve water consumers of the city from paying an unjust rate, asked its representative, the world-wide United Press, to go before the Ohio Utilities Commission, to find out what was wrong, when a hearing and review of the case could be had and other information. As a result of this newspaper's action, the Ohio Utilities Commission has announced it is ready to review the case. It now appears to be up to City Council. This newspaper has performed its duty, but it will keep on fighting for lower rates until they are obtained.)

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS, O., July 6.—The fact that Circleville has labored for five years under one of the highest water rates in Ohio, is due partly to the conduct of the city council there, members of the state utilities commission pointed out today.

Commissioners James Huffman and Frank Mauller declared that if the city is dissatisfied with the rates action should be started and the case placed before the commission for decision. While the old utilities commission, back 1923, set the rates the Ohio Water Service Co., may charge the members of the commission today, the city had not enacted ordinance fixing the rates and the commission was forced to set rates on a valuation which protected both the city and the city.

Records show that a water fixing ordinance, passed by the city expired about 1923 and at the expiration of 60 days, the city council having taken no action to renew the ordinance, the company appealed to the commission to fix the rates and this was done.

Rates Are Fixed

The rates for meter service, such as are in effect, were: First 2,000 gallons or from thereof, $7.60 a year, payable quarterly, equivalent to 95¢ a thousand gallons, quarterly. Next 2,500 gallons or less per day, 42 cents per 1,000 gallon. Third 3,000 gallons or more thereof, 20 cents a 1,000 gallon. All over this amount 10 cents a thousand gallons.

"Glad to Review Case"

"If Circleville feels its water rates are excessive," Commissioner Huffman said, "the utilities commission will be glad to review its case. The commission cannot go over the state investigating individual cases, and it is up to the city solicitor to gather the facts and if the grounds for action are good, bring the matter before the commission."

"The commission's docket is such that an appeal by the city of Circleville could be given almost immediate attention," Huffman declared.

Huffman and Judge William Klinger are new commissioners, appointed since the old utilities commission disposed of the Circleville case. Huffman expressed a willingness to review any brief the city might prepare and present.

Lack of Ordinance Costly

While failure of the city to pass an ordinance regulating the water rates has proved a costly thing, lack of such an ordinance will make the case the more easy to reopen, the commission indicated.

Had the city set an ordinance and the commission, on appeal by the company set rates on it for any specific length of time the case could not be reopened until the expiration of the limit of the ordinance, the commission pointed out.

Under the circumstances, it appears, an appeal at this time would be favorable to the city.

During the time the present case was pending before the state commission, records show, its name was changed several times. It was known as The Pickaway Water Company Corporation at later The Circleville Water Supply Company and still later The Ohio Water Service Corporation.

It is the Sturm and Dillard company gravel washing plant, located at the edge of the city.

At present the daily output is from 4,000 to 5,000 tons of gravel per 20-hour day.

The deposit which it is working on contains approximately 10,000,000 tons of sand and gravel, as near as can be estimated, which assures this industry for Circleville for years to come.

Half of the employees of the new company are local men, and the wages or part of the wages of all the employees are spent in this city.

Four months ago The Sturm & Dillard Company started building its gravel plant. It has been in operation two months. Five miles of track have been put down and are in operation for storage from the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Norfolk and Western railroads, for ballast loading.

The washer plant is equipped with the latest type machinery known to the gravel industry, including an electric automatic skip hoist, elevating the material to a hopper bin 104 feet above the ground, at the rate of 400 tons per hour.

To insure the material being free from loam and other foreign matter, the pumps elevate 2,500 gallons of water per minute to the screens through which the aggregate passes for sizing.

To reduce large boulders to screened sizes, the plant is equipped with two rock crushers, one of which weighs 68,000 pounds.

Due to engineering resources it has been found that concrete increases in tensile strength on all tests as far back as the records go, it is not known at present the years that may elapse before structures built of concrete will show any deterioration.

It has also been found that graded aggregate and sand ranging from the finest particle to 1 1/2 inch pebbles well mixed make the strongest concrete. These tests were first made by Prof. Duff Abrams of the Lewis Institute of Chicago, and since that time has become the leading authority on the design and control of mixtures for concrete.

As an example the state of Ohio has at the present time nine separate specifications for gravel. Rigid enforcement of proportioning material has brought into use the adjustable batch box to measure the sand and gravel for state highway work, such as the concrete base to be used on the Scioto Trail north of Circleville. This method insures a higher tensile strength concrete, to withstand the heavy traffic that now moves over the highways.

It is of interest to note the advancement of concrete construction through the contrast of the old covered bridge and the new bridge being built over Walnut creek on the Columbus road. These abutments of concrete and reinforcing steel are poured in one solid mass, built to withstand the assault of floods and time.

This modern plant now operating here is equipped to handle any contract regardless of specifications, and in addition is producing a high grade mason sand that has been tested both for brick and plaster use by various contractors here and in Columbus and approved unanimously.

Records show that a water rate fixing ordinance passed by the city expired about 1923 and that at the expiration of 90 days, the city council having taken no action to renew the ordinance, the company appealed to the commission to fix the rates and this was done.

Rates Are Fixed

The rates for meter service, such as are in effect, were:

First 2,000 gallons or fraction thereof, $7.60 a year, payable quarterly, equivalent to 95 cents a thousand gallons, quarterly.

Next 2,500 gallons or less per day, 42 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Third 3,000 gallons or part thereof, 20 cents a 1,000 gallons. All over this amount 10 cents a thousand gallons.

"Glad to Review Case"

"If Circleville feels its water rates are excessive," Commissioner Huffman said, "the utilities commission will be glad to review its case. The commission cannot go over the state investigating individual cases, and it is up to the city solicitor to gather the facts and if the grounds for action are good, bring the matter before the commission."

"The commission's docket is such that an appeal by the city of Circleville could be given almost immediate attention," Huffman declared.

Huffman and Judge William Klingler are new commissioners, appointed since the old utilities commission disposed of the Circleville case. Huffman expressed a willingness to review any brief the city might prepare and present.

CITY'S BLAMED BY OHIO BODY FOR HIGH RATE

Docket Cleared So That Hearing Can Be Had at Once, Commissioner Says.

(EDITOR'S NOTE.—The Circleville Herald, in its campaign to relieve water consumers of the city from paying an unjust rate, asked its representative, the world-wide United Press, to go before the Ohio Utilities Commission, to find out what was wrong, when a hearing and review of the case could be had and other information. As a result of this newspaper's action, the Ohio Utilities Commission has announced it is ready to review the case. It now appears to be up to City Council. This newspaper has performed its duty, but it will keep on fighting for lower rates until they are obtained.)

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS, O., July 6—The fact that Circleville has labored for five years under one of the highest water rates in Ohio, is due partly to the conduct of the city council there, members of the state utilities commission pointed out today.

Commissioners James Huffman and Frank Mauler declared that if the city is dissatisfied with the rates action should be started and the case placed before the commission for decision. While the old utilities commission, back in 1923, set the rates the Ohio Water Service Co., may charge the city, members of the commission said today the city had not enacted an ordinance fixing the rates and the commission was forced to set rates on a valuation which was protested by both the company and city.

Records show that a water rate fixing ordinance passed by the city expired about 1923 and that at the expiration of 90 days, the city council having taken no action to renew the ordinance, the company appealed to the commission to fix the rates and this was done.

Lack of Ordinance Costly

While failure of the city to pass an ordinance regulating the water rates has proved a costly thing, lack of such an ordinance will make the case the more easy to reopen, the commission indicated. Had the city set an ordinance and the commission, on appeal by the company set rates on it for any specific length of time the case could not be reopened until the expiration of the limit of the ordinance, the commission pointed out.

Under the circumstances, it appears, an appeal at this time would be favorable to the city.

During the time the present case was pending before the state commission, records show, its name was changed several times. It was known as the Pickaway Water Company Corporation and later The Circleville Water Supply Company and still later The Ohio Water Service Corporation.

Coolidge Names New Admiral; He Will Run Canoes

CEDAR ISLAND LODGE, Wis., July 6.—Yesterday Howard Johnson, U. S. N., was a chief petty officer assigned to the presidential yacht, Mayflower. Today he is an admiral.

Johnson, who has been on special duty with President Coolidge's party here, was called before the chief executive today.

"You are the only navy man in my official party," the president said, "I'll make you admiral of the fleet."

Mr. Coolidge waved his hand toward a flotilla of canoes bobbing jerkily on the tiny Brule river.

That was how an admiral was made.

Admiral Johnson's new duties include scrubbing "Beaver Dick," the president's personal fishing canoe, and keeping in immaculate condition the bathhouse which shelters the various small water craft on the Henry Clay Pierce estate.

Admiral Johnson expects to review the fleet at an early date. Plans for summer maneuvers on the Brule already are under way, he said.

STATEMENT OF CANDIDACY

CHARLES GERHARDT.

A Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Pickaway County is to be elected at the general election next November.

Elevation to the Bench is the goal most desired by lawyers and, in common with members of the bar generally, I share in such aspiration.

I have, therefore, filed a certificate, in accordance with the statutes governing primary elections, and have entered the Democratic primary for nomination as such Judge.

The following Democratic electors have certified to my candidacy, viz. N. L. Schell, Wilkinsport, D. L. Heffner, Salt Creek; Roy S. White, Darby; Frank Schleich, Jackson; John B. Mast, Washington; John B. Hedges, Walnut; Mrs. Rose Hedges, Harrison, Taylor Brintlinger, Ashville; Will W. Fisher, South Bloomfield; Key Reed and Whitney E. Lamb, Scioto; and Mrs. Estella Ritt Morris, John C. Goeller, Sr., Fred J. Ebert, John Moore, J. R. Noecker, John J. Drum and H. M. Crites of Circleville.

The public is entitled to know about candidates for public office, who and what they are, to the end that their fitness and qualifications for any particular office may be judged.

Briefly, therefore, I was born on a farm in Walnut Township, Pickaway County, Ohio, on March 28th, 1870, and worked thereon until 1890 when I entered Ohio Normal University at Ada, Ohio, and graduated therefrom in Arts and Letters. I was admitted to the Bar of Ohio in June, 1895, before beginning the practice. I further pursued the study of law at the Ohio State University until February 26th, 1896, when I came to Circleville and formed a partnership with the late John Schleyer and continued in that relation until June 1st, 1899, since which time I have practiced alone. I was elected Prosecuting Attorney for Pickaway County in 1902, was re-elected in 1905 and served in that capacity from January 1st, 1903 to January 1st, 1909. How well, the record will show. Let it suffice to here state that I had an assistant in but one criminal case during my six years service as prosecutor, and that a case involving charges of malfeasance in office against members of my own party.

I have neither asked, nor held any office within the gift of the electorate of Pickaway County since I left office of Prosecuting Attorney, and have now been in private practice continuously for over nineteen years.

During this time I have conducted, and assisted in the conduct of numerous cases before juries and judges in this and neighboring counties, many of which were trials that may be classed as important.

I have also had a reasonable amount of experience in the courts of review of this State, both appellate and supreme.

I have now had over 32 years experience in the practice of law and I believe that I have learned somewhat of the duties of a trial court, such as devolve upon a Common Pleas Judge. The experience I have gained, together with some knowledge of the law, acquired through a varied practice extending over three decades and more, afford some grounds at least for presuming I can perform the duties of the office.

I have no kinfolk at the bar. If nominated and elected I will be wholly free to serve without embarrassment because of kinship with any member of the bar. I shall always strive to so perform the duties of the office as to maintain the high standard set by the many able Judges who will have preceded me. I will do all within my power to expedite the business of the court to the end that causes may be brought to issue heard and decided without undue delay and without unnecessary costs and that justice may be done without fear of, or favor to any person, or persons, whomsoever.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES GERHARDT

LANDMARK AGAIN CHANGES HANDS; NOW IT'S AUTOS

Old Henry Livery Barn To Be Remodeled For Modern Auto Sales Building.

Another old land mark changed ownership Thursday, the old Henry livery barn, E. Franklin-st., which has been owned and used as a garage by I. P. Todd since 1918, was purchased by George H. Adams, the local agent for the Essex-Hudson cars. The sale was made thru the Circle City Real Estate agency.

The ground on which the old building is now located, was originally owned by W. W. Bierce and E. B. Olds. In 1931 it was conveyed by Michael Pontious to H. F. Page, the latter as trustee Mr. Pontious' widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Pontious, sold it to C. F. Lutz. The latter sold it to John Henry and he transferred the ownership to I. P. Todd.

Few people remembered the old barn as the National hotel livery barn. Possibly there are two citizens now living who remember it. The old livery barn still stands in the rear. The new addition which stands facing Franklin-st. was built some 30 years ago.

The livery barn at one time was operated by Beachell and Stoker, John Sherman and lastly John Henry.

In the good old days when a nice horse and buggy outfit was prized very highly by young swains, who took out their best girl on a Sunday for a buggy ride livery business was in its prime, and many times "Old John Henry" let a fellow have a ring on credit, so the youth's "sweetie" would not be disappointed on Sunday evening. This was the old way of courtship. Autos and airplanes have now taken their place.

When John Henry operated the barn, he later added undertaking, and this will be remembered by many today. Mr. Henry introduced a small white hearse for the burial of children. This vehicle was drawn by two small white ponies. These were later given the name of "Henry's two white mice." He disposed of the ponies and later bought two white horses which were used at funerals and also at weddings. They were magnificent Arabian white horses. Whenever they appeared on the street it set "tongues wagging." Some event had transpired, it was either a knell or a bell, and why were they out? The owner of the building will remodel it, and make a display room in front facing Franklin-st. Possession will be given the new owner Aug. 1.

The following Democratic electors have certified to my candidacy, viz: N. L. Schein, Williamsport; D. L. Heffner, Salt Creek; Roy S. White, Darby; Frank Schleich, Jackson; John B. Mast, Washington; John N. Hedges, Walnut; Mrs. Rose Hedges, Harrison; Taylor Brintlinger, Ashville; Will W. Fisher, South Bloomfield; Key Reed and Whitney E. Lamb, Scioto; and Mrs. Estella Ritt Morris, John C. Goeller, Sr., Fred J. Ebert, John Moore, J. R. Noecker, John J. Drum and H. M. Crites of Circleville.

The public is entitled to know about candidates for public office, who and what they are, to the end that their fitness and qualifications for any particular office may be judged.

Briefly, therefore, I was born on a farm in Walnut Township, Pickaway County, Ohio, on March 28th, 1870, and worked thereon until 1890 when I entered Ohio Normal University at Ada, Ohio, and graduated therefrom in Arts and Law. I was admitted to the Bar of Ohio in June, 1895. Before beginning the practice, I further pursued the study of law at the Ohio State University until February 26th, 1896, when I came to Circleville and formed a co-partnership with the late John Schleyer and continued in that relation until June 1st, 1899, since which time I have practiced alone.

I was elected Prosecuting Attorney for Pickaway County in 1902, was re-elected in 1905 and served in that capacity from January 1st, 1903 to January 1st, 1909. How well, the record will show. Let it suffice to here state that I had an assistant in but one criminal case during my six years service as prosecutor and that a case involving charges of malfeasance in office against members of my own party.

I have neither asked, nor held any office within the gift of the electorate of Pickaway County since I left office of Prosecuting Attorney, and have now been in private practice continuously for over nineteen years.

During this time I have conducted, and assisted in the conduct of numerous cases before juries and judges in this and neighboring counties, many of which were trials that may be classed as important.

I have also had a reasonable amount of experience in the courts of review of this State, both appellate and supreme.

I have now had over 32 years experience in the practice of law and I believe that I have learned somewhat of the duties of a trial court, such as devolve upon a Common Pleas Judge. The experience I have gained, together with some knowledge of the law, acquired through a varied practice extending over three decades and more, afford some grounds at least for presuming I can perform the duties of the office.

I have no kinsfolk at the bar. If nominated and elected I will be wholly free to serve without embarrassment because of kinship with any member of the bar. I shall always strive to so perform the duties of the office as to maintain the high standard set by the many able Judges who will have preceded me. I will do all within my power to expedite the business of the court to the end that causes may be brought to issue, heard and decided without undue delay, and without unnecessary costs, and that justice may be done without fear of, or favor to any person, or persons, whomsoever.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES GERHARDT.

LANDMARK AGAIN CHANGES HANDS; NOW IT'S AUTOS

Old Henry Livery Barn To Be Remodeled For Modern Auto Sales Building.

Another old land mark changed ownership Thursday, the old Henry livery barn, E. Franklin-st., which has been owned and used as a garage by I. P. Todd since 1918, was purchased by George H. Adkins, the local agent for the Essex-Hudson cars. The sale was made thru the Circle City Real Estate agency.

The ground on which the old building is now located, was originally owned by W. W. Bierce and E. B. Olds. In 1861 it was conveyed by Michael Pontious to H. F. Page, the latter as trustee. Mr. Pontious' widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Pontious, sold it to C. F. Lutz. The latter sold it to John Henry and he transferred the ownership to I. P. Todd.

Few people remembered the old barn as the National hotel livery barn. Possibly there are two citizens now living who remember it. The old livery barn still stands in the rear. The new addition which stands facing Franklin-st. was built some 50 years ago.

The livery barn at one time was operated by Beachell and Stoker, John Sherman and lastly John Henry.

In the good old days when a nice horse and buggy outfit was prized very highly by young swains, who took out their best girl on a Sunday for a buggy ride livery business was in its prime, and many times "Old John Henry" let a fellow have a rig on credit, so the youth's "sweetie" would not be disappointed on Sunday evening. This was the old way of courtship. Autos and airplanes have now taken their place.

When John Henry operated the barn, he later added undertaking, and this will be remembered by many today. Mr. Henry introduced a small white hearse for the burial of children. This vehicle was drawn by two small white ponies. These were later given the name of "Henry's two white mice." He disposed of the ponies and later bought two white horses which were used at funerals and also at weddings. They were magnificent Arabian white horses. Whenever they appeared on the street it set "tongues to wagging." Some event had transpired, it was either a knell or a bell, and why were they out?

The owner of the building will remodel it, and make a display room in front facing Franklin-st. Possession will be given the new owner Aug. 1.

BIBLE THOUGHT

GOD SAVES.—Say not thou, I will recompense evil; but wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee.
—Prov. 20-22.

PRAYER.—Help us, Lord, to love our enemies and pray for them and trust in Thee.

A LESSON ON FORCE

The sooner the world learns the great lesson, that force is one of the most useless things in existence the better off everyone will be.

In the long run you cannot force anyone to do anything for you. You may seem to, for a time, but in the end you are apt to find out you have been fooled. These thoughts are aroused in an article in the current issue of the magazine, Plain Talk, discussing the activities of the Germans in China.

When the World war ended Germany was in no shape, either in a military or financial sense, to follow the customary European policy of force in dealing with the Chinese. So there were no German concessions in China. The Germans did not share in the extra-territoriality scheme; Germans in China who broke the laws were tried in Chinese courts. Because of circumstances they could not control, the Germans had to treat China as an equal.

Meanwhile the other European nations followed the old policy. They maintained fleets and garrisons in China. They maintained their own courts there, set aside certain quarters of Chinese cities for their own use, and maintained a high and mighty attitude in every respect. That, they agreed, was the way to deal with the Chinese.

Then came the turmoil of revolution. And now read these sentences from the magazine article: "The British concession in Hankow was seized and kept; British American and French women and children, evacuated the town. Property of these nationalities, as well as the Japanese was destroyed in Nanking. So far as these nationalities were concerned business virtually ceased all the way up the Yangtze from Nanking to Ichang and trade was seriously curtailed.

"At the same time, however, the Germans carried on. In all the centers where revolution raged German property was not molested and German residents were not harmed. German firms in Hankow continued to operate after all other foreign firms had suspended."

The writer goes on to remark that while British and Japanese merchant ships were being fired on daily in the Yangtze river, German ships invariably were allowed to go by unmolested.

There is a lot of food for thought in that article. The nations that used force on China have seen their trade shrink and will see it shrink more as time goes on. The Germans, who did not use force, have reaped the benefit. Force obviously, has failed.

Nations—and people—who cannot be dissuaded from force by the argument that it is morally wrong may eventually give it up when they learn that it is worse than useless.

SECRET CORNERS OF THE HEART

You never know about men. There are always secret places in their hearts which are not revealed to all and sundry.

"The late Lord Curzon for instance during his lifetime was recognized as an immensely able, capable, industrious, scholarly statesman and administrator and cabinet minister. But he was deemed cold and cynical and supercilious.

It was thought the job of victory of India suited him to a T, because of the glamour and glitter and oriental magnificence that accompanied it.

But now comes his official biography, written by one of his life long friends. And what do we find? Well, for one thing, Curzon the simple human being, who felt head over heels in love with Miss Lettice of Chicago and was her ardent swain all her life. To her he poured out his soul.

To her he indited beautiful love letters long years after they were married and long after most husbands begin to be commonplace and workaday.

You see there was a secret corner in his heart and in it he burned candles to the loveliness of the woman who shared his joys and his sorrows.

STEEPLE-JACK

The other day I stood In a city And watched a Steeple-Jack Catch hot rivets In a bucket Risking his Life, defying Death

That the dream castle Of some other Genius might come True

And rear its proud Head up in the Clouds, Walking here and there On a tiny strand of Black steel and Now and then

I caught a snatch Of a whistle, A strand from some Almost forgotten Old song,

And I wondered at This man Who is so happy Building

Another's great Castle and contented Although he has Neglected to lay The foundation

Of his Own—

And what we mean to say Is,

All of this leads one To believe that Real contentment in Life does not Necessarily consist

In amassing huge Riches— Castles are not always Forty-room mansions With a half dozen Tiled baths—

We find it bubbling Over many, many Times In some little humble Cottage where a Man and wife

And his children have Found the real Secret of living.

There are just 354,940 Indians in the United States and we guess all of them attended a ball game we were at the other day.

TODAY'S BEST STORY

A man had invited a business acquaintance to play a round of golf with him. The guest, who was a very pompous individual, was also a poor player, and hacked up the turf with each stroke.

After he had carried away an unusually generous portion with his iron he turned to his host and said:

"You know, I don't care particularly for this game, but I like the glorious open country hereabouts."

"Quite," replied the other, as he surveyed the scarred ground, "but do you mind closing up the open country as we go along?"

SYNOPSIS

Chuck White, member of a gang of crooks of which the Professor is leader, has fallen in love with Rose Shannon, lovely cabaret dancer. The Professor, believing Rose knows the whereabouts of $200,000 mysteriously stolen from the Mercer National Bank, corners her in a lonely cottage where she has been staying with Chuck and his supposed aunt. Suspecting Chuck of double-crossing them, the remainder of the gang overpower him and force him on a train. Chuck manages to escape and reaches the cottage just in time to save Rose from the Professor's lustful desires. He fires and the Professor sinks to the ground.

A little cry escaped Rose's lips. She stared at the crumpled figure on the floor. Then, as the meaning of all these sayings and events rushed through her mind she suddenly knew the truth—or at least what she could only believe to be the truth. Chuck had taken that money from the satchel! His love? It had been a shallow pretence, a bitter farce. From start to finish he had betrayed her, fooled her, played with her!

Chuck, realizing that Rose believed the Professor; realizing that his actions of the afternoon had done little to strengthen her trust in him, tried to plead with her. "Rose, Rose, honey, listen! I love you, I do love you, Rose." He Suddenly he jumped up, grabbed the little fellow, lifting him to his feet.

"Yes, yes, yes," she cried. "All right, Rose, please listen to me." Chuck was frantic in his efforts to try to convince the girl of his sincerity.

But Rose was too blinded by the hurt to see or hear anything. She dashed from the room and fled toward the stairs, her broken sobs sounding pitifully. Still calling her name, Chuck turned to follow.

Down the steps she went, stopping only for an instant to snatch a coat from the hall rack as she went by. She flung open the door, and ran out into the night, Chuck after her.

A flash of lightning, and the two figures stood out for a moment, clear and distinct in the blinding light. And then they both were swallowed up in the dense blackness of the wild night.

CHAPTER XVIII

A weary, rain-soaked figure straggled into the little railroad station of Meadowdale. Silently Rose seated herself on the hard wooden bench in the waiting room. The round-bellied stove in the corner stood black and disconsolate, the empty coal scuttle beside it attesting to its disuse. Near it a box of sand, mottled with dark spots, served as a spittoon. Behind the bench several large crates and a half dozen milk cans waited for the first train out. A dismal, smoldering oil lamp cast but a faint erratic glow over the room.

The grinding noise of an on-coming train caused the girl to pull her coat more closely about her and start out through the double doors. She shivered as the wind and rain caught her full in the face, whipping her all too few garments about her. Chilling her through and through. Suddenly she drew back and again into the shelter of the study room, catching her breath sharply.

There, alighting from the coach, came Molly, followed by her three companions of the evening.

As they stepped onto the platform the woman drew her hat down upon her head and over her eyes, protecting her face from the storm. The four figures started toward the four figures started toward the results of their previous battle. The Mug's head was done up in a handkerchief, and Lefty's handsome face

Cutting off the blue-gill's "horns" it was placed upon a larger hook and dropped back into the stream. Some hours later, when the line was examined the monster shovel-head was hooked, and as soon as it was brought to the surface of the water, Morton seized it in the gills and dropped it into the boat, then hurried for shore with his prize catch.

Hooks Fish From Salt Creek That Is 50 Inches Long

If you believe in fish, you may believe this story from the Washington C. H. Herald:

L. R. Hutchison, employee of the city service department, while at Richmondale, in Ross county, July Fourth, saw what is said to be the largest shovel-head catfish ever taken from Salt Creek, which runs through that village.

The big fellow, hooked by Revere Morton, who had a line set, weighed 53 1-2 pounds and was 50 inches in length.

Are Bills Wise? Ask the Man Who Owes One!

Many people have the mistaken impression that "charge" accounts and installment buying improve your credit and give a feeling of responsibility. If you want an honest opinion, ask the man whose bills top his income by many dollars every pay-day. He will tell you that credit is never established by going into debt, and that anxiety, not responsibility, is the result of "Charge It."

The J. C. Penney Company is confident that our customers want goods of serviceable quality at the lowest possible price; that they prefer to pay cash and carry their purchases home so that they may put the substantial saving into their own pocket. If we permitted charge accounts we would have to add on an extra charge and this would be unfair to our other customers.

This month, we are celebrating the Anniversary of our Independence. Whether we, as individuals, have benefitted from this freedom, depends on how much we owe. Starting July free from debt, is a "safe and sane" celebration of Independence Day.

J.C. Penney Co.

Glad and Sorry.

Stanley Piekut Jr. of Chicago, explained to police that he killed his father because the "ves of the entire family had been threatened. He is held pending legal action.

DRY CONFERENCE CALLED IN SOUTH

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The prohibition conference at Asheville, N. C., July 11 to 14 will be restricted to invited Southern Democrats, dry leaders said here today.

Many applicants from various factions disgruntled over the major party nominees have been asked to attend, it was learned, but the meeting will be confined to "conference" proportions. It will be in no sense a "convention" and most of its sessions will be executive.

CINDER PATH STRETCHES FORTH TO OLYMPIC FAME

ATHLETES ARE SET TODAY TO TRY FOR TEAM

Three Hundred of Best in Country To Compete On Soldiers' Field.

BY FRANK GETTY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 6.—A cinder path to Olympic glory stretches ahead for America's fastest runners today, the green turf of Soldier's Field will pave the way to Amsterdam for the best of the nation's field athletes.

Three hundred track and field stars start competition in Harvard stadium this afternoon with only 64 places on the American Olympic team available.

This situation promises to result in a general crash of records, unless bad weather interferes, as was the case during the I. C. A. A. A. meet in May.

The most imposing host of sprinters ever gathered at any track meet, national or international, will answer the starter's gun at 2:30 p. m. Names famous on the cinders for a decade, and names but recently swept to prominence, in record breaking performances, will be called by leather lunged Little Johnny Halahan, the veteran announcer. There is Charley Paddock, long rated the "fastest human," and Claude Bracey of Rice Institute, Texas, who just this year equalled

WHAT BIG STARS DID YESTERDAY

Ty Cobb: Hit one single in three trips to the plate.

Tris Speaker: Did not play.

Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Rogers Hornsby, Paul Waner, Harry Heilmann and Frankie Frisch were idle.

or bettered world's record time for the century and furlong dashes.

One of the disappointments of these annual tryouts at Cambridge is the national weakness in the distance runs.

Four years ago, when the 1924 Olympic team returned with honors from Paris, it was recognized that this country must develop distance runners or yield many points to the Finns. In four years nothing has been done. The only appreciable improvement in the distance running situation has been the blossoming of chesty little Joie Ray, as a marathon runner.

Men to watch today are Bracey in the dashes, Leighton Die in the 110 metre hurdles, Hamm, the Georgia boy, in the broad jump, Lloyd Hahn in the 800 metres run and Sabin Carr in the pole vault. There is record breaking material through that lot.

After a two day meet, the Olympic selections committee will gather at the Boston A. A. club house Saturday night and name the team which will sail from New York aboard the C. S. President Roosevelt next Wednesday noon.

Baseball

Yesterday's hero: George Earnshaw, newcomer to the Athletics from the International League, who pitched his first winning game in six starts. He pitched a three-hit shutout against the Boston Red Sox, the score being 5 to 0.

Rain caused postponement of the other contests scheduled, New York at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at Boston, National League.

NAME OLYMPIC DECATHLON MEN

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The four men selected to represent the United States in the Olympic decathlon events at Amsterdam are Kenneth Doherty of the Cadillac A. C. (Detroit); James Stewart, Los Angeles A. C.; Bernard Berlinger, University of Pennsylvania; and Thomas Shurchill, University of Oklahoma.

The selections were made late yesterday at the completion of the Olympic tryouts won by Doherty with 7600.52 points. Stewart was second with 7533.25 points, Berlinger third with 7362.195 and Churchill fourth with 7203.20.

HAYESVILLE TEAM WALLOPS KINGSTON

Hayesville Tigers socked out 16 hits and made 19 runs to win in a walk from Kingston Sunday at Hayesville. The final score was 19 to 8.

Day, Hayesville pitcher, struck out 12 batters and allowed but five hits. Day let down in final innings when Kingston scored all their runs.

Babb and E. Enoch of Hayesville both secured home runs by putting the ball over the left field fence. Day, Ray Enoch and Harry Wright all from Hayesville, secured doubles, Day getting two. Herian fanned six men for Kingston.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Kingston 0 0 0 0 0 4 4 0 8
Hayesville 4 5 0 5 0 3 0 2 19

Havana Ribbon is its name... a cigar—for five cents!—that from end to end contains nothing but fully-ripened leaves of choice tobacco plants. No bitter under-ripe top leaves; no flat-tasting over-ripe bottom leaves. But quality tobacco captured just when Nature has given it its truest, mellowest, mildest flavor and aroma. And long-filler tobacco at that! No short ends to crumble in your mouth. We contend that Havana Ribbon is without doubt the greatest five-cent value that has ever come out of a cigar factory. See if you don't agree with us—try Havana Ribbon. Never mind wondering how such cigar goodness is possible for a nickel (immense production and genuine manufacturing sincerity are the reasons, if you insist on knowing). Judge Havana Ribbon solely on smoking enjoyment and money-saving value. Also Practical Pocket Package of five cigars.

Don't ship Underweight HOGS!

When you do, you aren't paid for enough pounds; and you help keep down the price per pound. Keep your hogs until their weights and the market price are BOTH better. Feed them Tuxedo Hog Ration and make pork faster, better, and cheaper.

Tuxedo Hog Ration is saving the day for thousands of feeders, often turning a bad loss into profit. It contains every element the hog needs for steady, healthy growth—digester tankage, corn meal, ground barley, ground oats, wheat middlings, rice bran, alfalfa meal, and pure cane molasses. Scientifically mixed into a uniform, perfect feed.

CINDER PATH STRETCHES FORTH TO OLYMPIC FAME

ATHLETES ARE SET TODAY TO TRY FOR TEAM

Three Hundred of Best in Country To Compete On Soldiers' Field.

BY FRANK GETTY
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 6.—A cinder path to Olympic glory stretches ahead for America's fleetest runners today; the green turf of Soldier's Field will pave the way to Amsterdam for the best of the nation's field athletes.

Three hundred track and field stars start competition in Harvard stadium this afternoon with only 64 places on the American Olympic team available.

This situation promises to result in a general crash of records, unless bad weather interferes, as was the case during the I. C. A. A. A. meet in May.

The most imposing host of sprinters ever gathered at any track meet, national or international, will answer the starter's gun at 2:30 p. m. Names famous on the cinders for a decade, and names but recently swept to prominence in record breaking performances, will be called by leather lunged Little Johnny Halahan, the veteran announcer.

There is Charley Paddock, long rated the "fastest human," and Claude Bracey of Rice Institute, Texas, who just this year equalled

WHAT BIG STARS DID YESTERDAY

Ty Cobb: Hit one single in three trips to the plate.
Tris Speaker: Did not play.
Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Rogers Hornsby, Paul Waner, Harry Heilmann and Frankie Frisch were idle.

or bettered world's record time for the century and furlong dashes.

One of the disappointments of these final tryouts at Cambridge is the national weakness in the distance runs.

Four years ago, when the 1924 Olympic team returned with honors from Paris, it was recognized that this country must develop distance runners or yield many points to the Finns. In four years nothing has been done. The only appreciable improvement in the distance running situation has been the blossoming of chesty little Joie Ray, as a marathon runner.

Men to watch today are Bracey in the dashes, Leighton Die in the 110 metre hurdles, Hamm, the Georgia boy, in the broad jump, Lloyd Hahn in the 800 metres run and Sabin Carr in the pole vault. There is record breaking material through that lot.

After a two day meet, the Olympic selections committee will gather at the Boston A. A. club house Saturday night and name the team which will sail from New York aboard the C. S. President Roosevelt next Wednesday noon.

Baseball

Yesterday's hero: George Earnshaw, newcomer to the Athletics from the International league, who pitched his first winning game in six starts. He pitched a three-hit shutout against the Boston Red Sox, the score being 5 to 0.

Rain caused postponement of the other contests scheduled, New York at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at Boston, National league.

NAME OLYMPIC DECATHLON MEN

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The four men selected to represent the United States in the Olympic decathlon events at Amsterdam are Kenneth Doherty of the Cadillac A. C. (Detroit); James Stewart, Los Angeles A. C.; Bernard Berlinger, University of Pennsylvania; and Thomas Shurchill, university of Oklahoma.

The selections were made late yesterday at the completion of the Olympic tryouts won by Doherty with 7600.52 points. Stewart was second with 7533.25 points, Berlinger third with 7362.195 and Churchill fourth with 7203.20.

HAYESVILLE TEAM WALLOPS KINGSTON

Hayesville Tigers socked out 16 hits and made 19 runs to win in a walk from Kingston Sunday at Hayesville. The final score was 19 to 8.

Day, Hayesville pitcher, struck out 12 batters and allowed but five hits. Day let down in final innings when Kingston scored all their runs.

Babb and E. Enoch of Hayesville both secured home runs by putting the ball over the left field fence. Day, Ray Enoch and Harry Wright all from Hayesville, secured doubles, Day getting two. Herian fanned six men for Kingston.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Kingston . . . 0 0 0 0 4 4 0 0 8
Hayesville 4 5 0 5 0 3 0 2 x-19

FATHER BONNER PLACED TO REST AT PORTSMOUTH

Priest Who Is Well Known In Circleville, Given Last Tributes.

Solemn funeral services for the late Rev. Father Thomas Bonner, who died at Mercy hospital, Portsmouth, Monday, were held at St. Peter's church, Chillicothe, Wednesday at 10 a. m.

He once occupied the Catholic pulpit here during a vacation of Father Hannan.

The Right Rev. Monsignor Dr. Joseph Och rector of the Pontifical College Josephinum, Columbus celebrated the solemn Pontifical high mass, assisted by Rev. Henry J. Schurer of Cheviot, O., as deacon and Rev. Ferdinand Valerius as sub-deacon. Rev. Father F. J. Kreuskamp, pastor of St. Peter's church, was master of ceremonies.

Rev. Henry J. Kellerman, of New Straitsville, a life-long friend of Father Bonner, gave an eloquent and touching eulogy on the virtues and priestly zeal of Father Bonner, dwelling especially upon the cheerfulness and patience with which he bore an illness that marked his entire life.

Present in the sanctuary were Rev. William Robben, Corning; Rev. Patrick F. Reilly, Jackson; Rev. Lucius Kessler, Shawnee; Rev. Cornelius Schneider, Columbus; Rev. John J. Kelly, Marysville; Rev. Leo Falvey, Portsmouth; Rev. Joseph Kassman, Dayton; Rev. T. A. Goebel, Portsmouth; Rev. Joseph Wernke Owensville; Rev. William J. Conroy, St. Mary's parish, Chillicothe; Rev. Edmund Burkley, Columbus; Rev. Urban J. Koehl, Greenfield; Rev. Eugene Gerlach, North Star; Rev. Edward Depenbrock, Cincinnati; Rev. John S. Hannan, Circleville; Rev. Frank Fuerger, Carlisle, Ill.

The Knights of St. George acted as pallbearers and body guard. There was a large attendance of parishioners and visiting friends, many of whom accompanied the cortege to the cemetery where the Right Rev. Monsignor Dr. Och, surrounded by the reverend clergy, performed the last rites. Father Bonner was laid to rest in the priest's lot, St. Margaret's cemetery. Scioto Gazette.

NEW STUDEBAKER MODELS ARE NOW IN CIRCLEVILLE

In the new President Straight Eight, shown for the first time today, in the local showrooms of G. L. Schiear, Studebaker-Erskine dealer, The Studebaker Corporation of America offers the supreme achievement of its 76 years of quality manufacture. Although the new President is offered at a new low price of $1685 f. o. b. factory, it has been built without stint in any detail that makes for beauty, luxury and comfort.

The refinements of this leader of the Studebaker line of cars are a fitting tribute to The President's spectacular performance. Last April, The President gave conclusive proof of its speed and endurance by breaking all official stock closed car records for distances up to 2,000 miles and for periods from 1 to 24 hours.

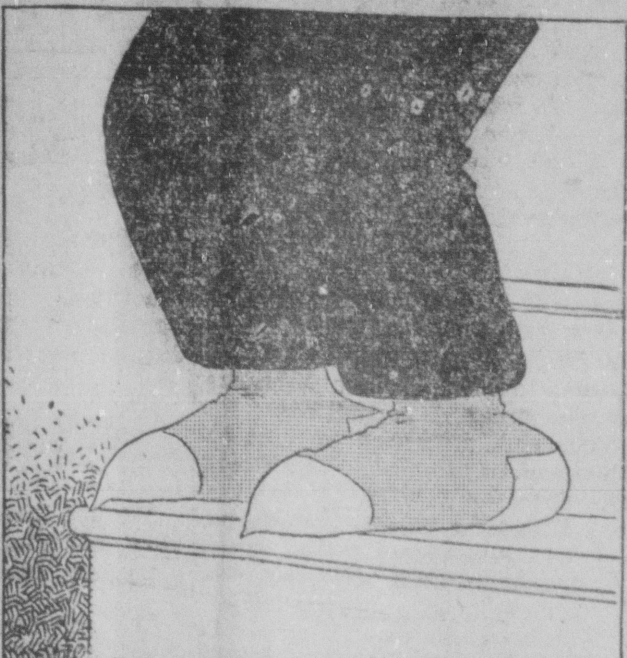

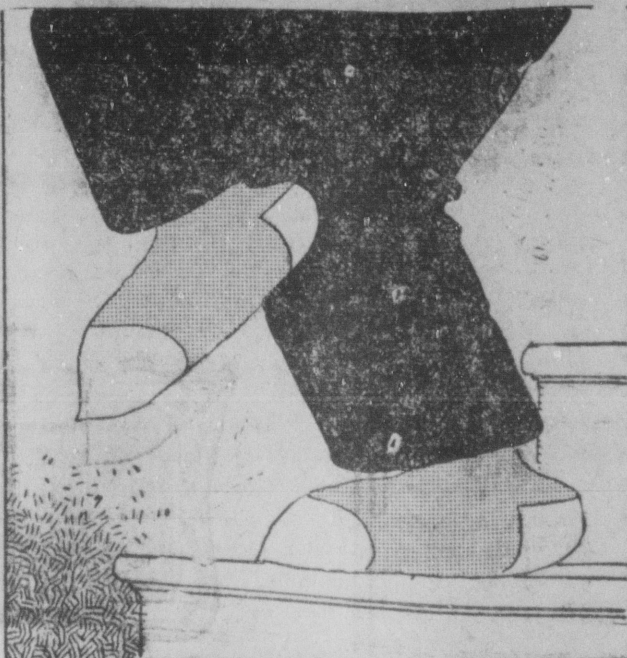

The President Straight Eight engine offers 109 horsepower, producing 80 miles an hour. Two five and two seven passenger sedans, a Victoria for four, two Cabriolets for four, a seven passenger State Limousine, a smart Sport Roadster for four and a seven passenger Tourer are included in The President line. State models include 6 wire wheels, the two spares being carried in front fender wells. Such luxury features as cigar lighters, smoking sets, silk assist cords, vanity cases and antique finished door panels enriched by etched silver medallions are found among these models.

REED LAUNCHES WET DRIVE FOR HIS SUCCESSOR

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 6.—With a reiteration of his consistent opposition to the prohibition amendment and the Volstead law, Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, today virtually launched a 'wet' Democratic campaign of support for James A. Collett to succeed him at Washington.

Collett, a life-long friend and generally classed as a 'wet,' is opposed by Charles M. Hay, an avowed 'dry' Democrat and leader of the Wilsonian wing of Missouri Democracy which eight years ago read Reed out of the party because of his anti-Wilson course on the League of Nations issue.

After conferring with Collett all day yesterday, Reed said in an interview that repeal of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead law were brought 'sharply into the campaign' by Governor Alfred E. Smith's wire of acceptance to the Houston convention.

"It committed our candidate to the repeal of that amendment and that law," Reed said. "That action brings the question sharply in to the campaign. It cannot be escaped or avoided."

Reed added that his statement on prohibition at Houston—in which he said the 18th Amendment and the Volstead law would remain "until the moral forces of the nation become convinced there is a better way to handle this question"—had been given "a very peculiar construction."

"The term 'moral forces' has been construed to mean the Anti-Saloon League," he said. "Nothing was farther from my thoughts. Everybody but an idiot knows two things: First, that the Anti-Saloon League would never consent to any change except to make more drastic and offensive the present laws; second, that the Anti-Saloon League does not have a monopoly on morality and does not embrace all the moral forces of the United States. I do not mean to say it is immoral but it has no monopoly on morality."

GIVEN CONTRACT TO DRILL SCHOOL WELL

James W. Edgington, well driller, has secured the contract to drill a 700 foot well for the Walnut-twp. centralized school.

Owing to the fact of the altitude of the land on which this school is located, it is thought that it will be necessary to go to the 700 foot level, to obtain water free from sulphur. In this part of the county good water is obtained at the 90-foot level free of sulphur.

Altho the ice plant and the Coca Cola Bottling works, went down below this level to obtain pure water, in some parts of the city, drillers went down 36 feet and found an excellent flow of water, which when examined showed that it was free from any impurities.
